

Slavka ELEY

Head of Governance and Coordination
Unit, European Labor Authority (ELA)

Slavka Eley joined the European Labour Authority in September 2021 where she leads the Governance and Coordination Unit, responsible for the overall governance, external relations, horizontal policy coordination, compliance and communication. She leads the ELA Task Force on Road Transport implementing the ELA Framework for Actions in Road Transport. She established ELA's social partners liaison function and leads the activities related to the facilitation of digital tools supporting labour mobility.

Prior to joining the ELA, she worked for the European Banking Authority (from 2013) where she led the Banking Markets, Innovation and Products Unit, responsible for the work on financial innovation, digital finance, capital market union and sustainable finance. Between 2013 and 2017 she led the Supervisory Convergence Unit responsible for a common EU supervisory framework for banking supervisors. She represented the EBA at European and international working groups, including the FSB Financial Innovation Network, the European Commission's Platform on Sustainable Finance and Basel Committee's Task Force on Climate Risk. Over the last several years, she chaired different working groups at the EBA such as Network on Sustainable Finance, Sub-group on Risk Assessment Systems, and the Sub-group on Supervisory Effectiveness and Convergence.

She holds a MBA in general management from the City University of Seattle and a Master degree in Mathematics and Physics from the Comenius University Bratislava.
